A Windfall Awaits Man Sought Here

There are between five and six hundred pounds, ($2,000 to $2,400), waiting for an English bank for H. J. Cowper, whose address in 1944 was General Delivery, Edmonton.

The money was left to him by his father, with T. H. Cowper, a brother, of Richmond, Surrey, as trustee.

In a letter to R. A. McMillan, at Alberta House in London, Richmond's Mr. Cowper asked the provincial government for aid in finding his brother "out of fairness to the other beneficiaries" under the will of the late Mr. Cowper.

He reports regular deposits have been made to the account of the missing brother at the English bank, and a further one is on the way.

H. J. Cowper is said to be an electrical engineer once employed at the generating plant in Calgary.

Mail sent to the Edmonton address has not been returned the English brother reports.

History's most unique "fishing expedition" is going on now in the Atlantic.

The fishermen are scientists who are after some catches that may tell us some of the mysteries of the world's oceans.

What geological changes may come in the future.

Pop man on the expedition is Dr. Maurice Ewing, professor of geology at Columbia University. Others are from the Woods Hole, Mass., Oceanographic Institution and the National Geographic Society.

The scientists are using a specially-developed camera to take color pictures of what goes on three miles below the surface of the Atlantic. They hope also to catch some of the creatures and bring them back alive.

Fred Sawchuk Buys New Car, Then Wins Another

It isn't everyone who gets two hand-new cars in one week, and one of those cars at a cost of only a dollar.

But it did happen last week to Fred A. Sawchuk, 9638 109A avenue, owner and manager of Medical Welfare and Body Works, east Wednesday Mr. Sawchuk bought a new auto for his family to drive on a holiday trip to the U.S.

Saturday night he was judged winner of the 1945 Pontiac sedan given at the Edmonton Exhibition by the Kinmen Club.

About 8400 other Edmonton people bought tickets on the Kinmen auto.

Mr. Sawchuk feels so good about his fortune that he is donating the car to the Kinmen Club for Britain fund, club officials announced today.

He was awarded to the person who could guess most closely what the auto's speedometer reading would be after six days of operation at a speed of about 30 miles per hour, winning a specified number of hours each day.

Mr. Sawchuk guessed 1,407 miles, just 2.00ths off the actual amount of 1,409 and 90-100 miles.

He just beat two other Edmontonians, George Wilkins and Mrs. M. Kerr. Running up, they were both 12-100 of a mile from the answer.

About 2,000 people gathered around the Kinmen booth at the fair grounds Saturday night to hear announcement of the winner's name.

But Mr. Sawchuk wasn't there. He was out driving in the country with his wife and daughter.

"We were listening to the radio when suddenly the music stopped and I heard a name over the air as winner of the car," Mr. Sawchuk told The Bulletin.

"My wife and daughter were more excited than I was—my wife leaped to her feet, and she grabbed me and hugged me. The car must have won the ditch," he said.

"I never, never, never thought I'd win," he said. "It was a complete surprise."

It was a coincidence that brought Mr. Sawchuk his new auto. He had bought four tickets Wednesday and made his guesses on the speedometer mileage, but Saturday morning a friend came to him saying, "I've got two tickets. Fred, do you want to buy one?"

Mr. Sawchuk did, made his guess the based his computation on 22 miles per hour, which the car wheels were traveling, and ended up with a new car.

Now that he has two cars, Mr. Sawchuk is in a pleasant sort of dilemma—which one to keep?

His plans right now indicate that he'll be keeping the Pontiac. "It has everything you could want on an automobile," he told The Bulletin.

In the meantime, he's getting ready to take the car when he leaves Thursday for his U.S. vacation.

WALLACE WINNER — AT INDIAN WRASSLIN'

ASBURY PARK, N.J., July 18.—(AP)—Presidential Candidate Henry Wallace got into the spirit of a picnic rally Sunday and challenged a hefty young New Jersey Congressional candidate of his new party to an old-fashioned Indian "wrestling" match. Thirty-eight-year-old Sidney Stobber accepted the challenge but was no match for the veteran Wallace. The 55-year-old third party head won four straight falls.

Iraq and Syria Turn Down Palestine Truce

BAGHDAD, July 19.—(AP)—An official statement today said that Iraq and Syria had rejected the Palestine truce which was discussed at the Arab League political committee meeting at Aley, the Lebanon, yesterday.

(Palestine reports today quoted Jewish statements that Iraq and Syrian troops were continuing fighting.)

The official Arab League statement said:

"Iraq and Syria have voted against the Security Council's decision for a cease-fire in Palestine and rejected the Palestine truce request in the Arab League political committee meeting at Aley last night when the same committee accepted the truce by a majority of votes of the five remaining Arab states—Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Trans-Jordan, the Lebanon and Yemen."

The army of Israel announced in Tel Aviv tonight that it had dispatched to Count Folke Bernadotte a list of alleged Arab violations of the Palestine truce in continued fighting in widely scattered sections.

Despite both Arab and Jewish agreement to the new truce, it became apparent that the momentum of the war machines was such that they could not be checked immediately. The same violations occurred in the first days of the earlier truce in 1948.

North Cadets Return Home From Camp

More than 250 Northern Alberta army cadets returned, to their homes during the weekend, after spending 10 days at Sarnsee camp near Calgary. The camp was the regular summer training offered cadets during the winter.

Thirty cadet corps, including about 400 personnel, attended from all parts of the province. The cadets were divided into five companies for training in river crossing in assault boats and rubber dingies, organized sport, field firing of infantry weapons, and rifle shooting.

Each night one company went on an overnight manoeuvre. A number of cadets completed the Alberta cadet rifle shooting competition while at camp.

Commander of the camp was Lt. Col. W. A. Jull. Lieutenant Fred Swain of Edmonton, northern cadet officer, was in charge of training. Other officers included: Capt. H. V. Davies, Calgary, chief instructor; Cadet Major A. Mottershead, Edmonton, second command; Cadet Sgt. Major A. Danzyuk, Edmonton, regimental sergeant of the camp.

Plan Extension
Sarnsee Industries Ltd. took out a permit today for $60,000, covering the erection of a concrete and masonry addition to its plant at 9635 106A avenue. P. Campbell-Ross is the architect on this project.

ONLY 'SUBTERFUGE' plebiscite not obligatory—that the government is not bound to follow the results. If the electors endorse the supply of electric power by the Alberta Power Commission, Mr. Page said he feared rural electrification lines might be extended to remote areas, so that the province would face tremendous losses.

He recalled Alberta Government Telephone lines had extended to such far-flung districts in its early days that the group had faced bankruptcy, so that legislative action and a period of

Hotel Extension A Year Away Yet

Land Negotiations Not Near Completion

At least one year will elapse before work on the projected extension to the Macdonald hotel will commence.

Commenting on the proposed extension to the Macdonald hotel today, Mayor Harry Ainlay said negotiations are still proceeding between the city and the Macmillan Estate for purchase of property in the south side of Jasper avenue, between 100 and 99 streets.

"We seem a little closer to a price for the property," the mayor said today, "but even if a deal is concluded in the near future it would be at least a year before work could be started on the hotel extension."

OFFER LOWER
A majority of tenants in the Jasper avenue buildings, that the mayor said would be made for the hotel extension, have year leases with the Macmillan Estate. Others rent directly from the city.

Mayor Ainlay said he had made the Macmillan Estate an offer for the property that was $10,000 lower than the estate was willing to accept.

"Of late we seem a little closer to reaching an agreement on the purchase price," the mayor said. "Any agreement would have to be approved by the city council," he explained.

MORE ROOMS
Mayor Ainlay said he thought the CNR was now considering an extension of 300 rooms, costing about $200,000, instead of the 160-room extension first proposed by railway hotel officials.

Original plans for the hotel extension, announced more than one year ago, call for a 160-room structure that would extend east to Jasper avenue, and west to the intersection of 100 street.

CNR officials later said that increased building costs had caused a postponement of work on the extension.

Disease Shows Decline In City

During the week ended July 17 there were 69 cases of communicable disease reported to the city health department, compared with 71 the previous week.

There were 15 cases of chickenpox compared with 20; 4 of measles against 36, and three of mumps compared with four the previous week.

Three cases of whooping cough were reported, compared with five, and three of rubella the same total as the previous week.

Defence Aide On Tour Of West

Major events of the day, the gas model free-flight competition, was won by Don Rushton, whose seven- and one-half-foot span model flew so freely it hasn't been found yet.

When last seen, it was passing over Morinville at a height of about 6,000 feet.

If found, Rushton would like the finder to return it to the Morocraft shop, 8200 107 street, Edmonton.

TWO-PRIZE WINNER
Ross Grady, Alberta champion and prize-winner at the recent Dominion finals in Toronto, was the only entrant to win more than one prize when two of his models placed second in separate events.

In scale model, gas-engineered control line competitions, Rusty Chaplin in copied first in a model of single-engineered Navion. Rusty Grady placed second with scale model of a four-engineered B-29.

Chaplin's winning model was adjudged almost perfect in scale, workmanship, detail and flying ability.

First and second prizes in rubber-powered flying models were won by Jack Meale and Keith Wyllie. Prizes in the small gas-model class went to Jack Pennyfather and Clarence Deines.

STUNT MODELS
Control line gas stunt models rated high with the crowd for thrills when prices went to "Bul" to follow the results.

Events of the day were under the direction of Bob Moore, president of the Edmonton Model Aeroclubs and prizes were donated by city firms.

Youth And Age Tie For Honors In Flying Test

Youth and years tied Sunday for honor of representing Edmonton in competitions for Canada's top amateur pilot.

Winners of the Edmonton eliminations were J. H. Blackburn, 212 1/2 street, and Leslie R. Robinson, 325 Armstrong Avenue.

The pair will compete against Calgary entrants to determine who will represent Alberta when flyers from throughout the nation will compete for the Webster Memorial Trophy, highest award in Canadian amateur flying, at Calgary, August 2 and 3.

Competitions Sunday were conducted by the Edmonton Flying Club, of which both winning pilots are members.

Blackburn, an insurance salesman, first learned to fly in 1930 as a member of the Edmonton and Northern Alberta Aero Flying Club, which later became the Edmonton Flying Club.

He gave up his license shortly afterwards, and only flew little but until he joined the ICAF as a flying control officer. He renewed his license about one year ago.

Five City Drivers Win Safety Awards

Five Edmontonians were presented with prizes Saturday morning by the Edmonton Safety Council for courteous driving during Exhibition week.

Winners were: Dr. A. Cairns, 611 Jasper street, with receiving the first prize of a set of abradant tires from the Midland Auto Supply Co.

J. R. McCrum, 10404 87 avenue, and C. W. Wilson, 10222 120 street, each received 10 gallons of Texaco gasoline.

W. G. Murray, 10252 92 street, will get a free car wash and grease job from Truckers Tire Co.

Edmonton of 3201 121 street, won a free change of oil at Dominion Motors.

Presentations were made by Charles Simmonds, president of the Federation of Community Leagues, and a director of the Edmonton Safety Council.

Courtesy campaigns entered their third week today, with police and Safety Council officials on the lookout for more courteous drivers.

Officials had an easy time of it today. First driver choked turned in a score of 97 per cent.

He was Rev. Father J. J. Cunningham of St. Alphonsus Church, 1128 85 street.

Only slip was failing to make a signal when entering Jasper avenue from 84 street. Father Cunningham effected this turn from the property, and in such a way that his car was not unduly delayed, but rules call for a three-point turn.

A "continuing officer" today was Constable Ross Campbell, accompanied by Paul Lawrence of the Safety Council.

Bigger and Longer Exhibition

While the directors of the Exhibition Association are considering the erection of a new grandstand and the provision of more adequate parking areas they should also bring under discussion the question of extending the annual fair beyond the present limit of one week.

The new steel and concrete grandstand to seat 10,000 people is imperative and all Edmonton will applaud the project.

Bigger and better parking areas are urgently needed. These parking areas should have numbered markers and sufficient lights.

But if the Edmonton Exhibition has obviously grown beyond its present facilities, it has also grown, in the opinion of many, beyond the cramped confines of a single week.

In spite of threatening weather and downright bad weather, the 1948 Exhibition broke all attendance records with 52,487 persons passing through the gates on Friday. The highest previous record was 45,343 in 1945.

In short, Edmonton is more Exhibition-conscious than at any other time in her history.

The population of Edmonton is growing rapidly every year. And the influx of July tourists is greater than ever before and will continue to increase as we multiply our tourist attractions.

The Exhibition Association is to be commended for planning long overdue improvements.

It will perform a further public service if it carefully and extensively studies the possibility of lengthening the period of the Exhibition to a full two weeks.

Stop the Palestine War

The order of the United Nations security council that the war in Palestine must stop will be a barren command indeed unless it is enforced in such terms as will ensure the territorial integrity of the new Jewish state of Israel.

For it is quite possible to interpret the order in two ways:

1. It may have in mind the restoration of the status quo in Palestine before Israel was proclaimed.
2. It may be intended to protect the new state from Arab interference.

If the latter is the intent of the order, it will have the approval of all fair-minded men.

To all intents and purposes, Israel is the creation of the United Nations because the United Nations authorized a Jewish state. Therefore it should become the duty of the United Nations to protect its own creation.

But if the order aims at going back to the pre-Israel phase in Palestine, then the United Nations will be guilty of such flagrant self-contradiction as to constitute a grave blow at its prestige.

Come Just a Little Closer

A correspondent writes a letter to The Bulletin urging that drivers be asked to bring their vehicles a little closer to the curb when passengers are alighting.

With this mild request The Bulletin and most of its readers will concur.

It is one of the very few faults of Edmonton's drivers that it sometimes is necessary to make a pretty long leap for the curb when the bus stops a foot or so out.

The Bulletin welcomes the opportunity of handing on this criticism because it affords a further opportunity to congratulate the operators of these vehicles on the high standard of control they have achieved in a comparatively short time.

Most of the drivers are courteous, careful and skilled.

During paving operations on the street, it may be that some vehicles with little loss of time and with great consideration for the convenience of their passengers.

Few cities can boast of bus drivers as efficient and friendly.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Appreciated Cordiality

Editor, Bulletin—I want to thank you for forwarding to me a copy of your paper and also the photograph which Mr. Eric Bland took of the sheriff and myself when we were in Edmonton.

We appreciated Mr. Bland's cordiality very much and I am sorry that I was unable to help arrange a suitable picture of the subject for his paper.

The people in Edmonton were very cordial and friendly toward us when we were in your city and it was indeed a pleasure to receive such warm and good-will from all with whom we came in contact.

Again thanking you, I remain, CHARLES P. CURHAN, Mauston, Wis.

The Ford hotel would have made an excellent home for old people who are sadly in need of such a building. The Ontario Legion dollars required for the purchase and alterations of this building for the CBC is money wasted.

I am sure that no one would have objected to their spending ten million dollars on some more artistic and more suitable for the purpose. But what is the use of fine buildings and high salaries paid to CBC officials if we are to listen to radio rubbish.

It is high time that something was done about it. Millions can always be found by government organizations for anything they desire but when it comes to the CBC, the money is not there.

Let us have more social legislation and less impractical and unwarranted expenditures for which the public has to pay and pay.

ANNOUNCED

Edmonton's Bad Street

Editor, Bulletin—This is my third trip to Edmonton, and I must say that the city is in a deplorable state.

A few miles of rain and it is impossible to drive your car down certain streets—for instance, the street near Alberta boulevard.

I have friends who have a war-time house on 8th street. The mud and water there is so deep that it is impossible to get out even get their car out of the mud for three days during the winter.

Edmonton is a lovely city—why not take time out to beautify its streets. It would be a big help to pedestrians and drivers. And since visitors from out of town don't even get their car out of the mud for three days during the winter.

Brandon's Parking Meters

Interesting and ominous is Brandon's experience with parking meters during the first year of their operation.

During that period the meters took in a total of $6,700.

The city of Brandon received 25 per cent of that, or $1,600, the balance going to the manufacturing company.

It cost Brandon $2,716 to service the machines.

This means that Brandon lost a total of $1,026 on the first year's operations of parking meters.

Perhaps Edmonton will be more fortunate.

Palestine Situation Like That of Ethiopia

It is too bad that the attention of the world is so firmly fixed on the big power wrestling match in Berlin. It is too bad that serious-minded people do not pay more attention to what is happening in Palestine.

For the situation there has been too much resemblance to what happened in Ethiopia in 1941 and 1942.

The original plan was to divide the land into three areas:

1. Jerusalem and Bethlehem, to become an "enclave" governed by the United Nations.
2. A Jewish state, based on the opinion of the people, by the people for the people.
3. An Arab state, to be democratically governed by the Arabs of Palestine, for the Arabs of Palestine.

Only one part of the three-point settlement decreed by the UN Assembly has been made good. The Jews of Palestine have proclaimed their independence, now called the Republic of Israel.

Lawful Authority

Without any help from outside, Hagah, the army of Israel, has established its lawful authority over the land allotted to it. It has withstood attacks, not from the Arabs of Palestine, but from invading forces of Egypt, Syria, Lebanon, Trans-Jordan and Iraq.

It should be noted that when the United Nations was set up, it was intended that these five invading armies should be able to bring about the settlement of the land allotted to Israel by the United Nations plan. But the invading armies from across the Jordan had captured the old Jewish state of Palestine in the very heart of the Holy City enclave.

clive which was to be demilitarized and ruled directly by the United Nations.

The Jews of Palestine had taken and held by force in the "old weeks" war. That the Jews would get permanent residence in the Holy City enclave.

And what are deceptively called the "Arabs" would also get permanent possession of what they held.

That is just another way of saying that the invading aggressive armies of Trans-Jordan would be allowed to keep Jerusalem despite the fact that it was earmarked for government as a "UN enclave."

Moral Force

I sat through the recent special session of the UN Assembly at New York and was thrilled at the way the rank-and-file New Zealanders, overwhelmingly defeated the UN attempt to merge the UN division of 1947.

One day a student asked the position that there was only one "moral force" in the world to stand firm behind its moral judgment, to back it by moral force, even by police force if necessary.

The United Nations should stand firm behind its moral judgment, to back it by moral force, even by police force if necessary.

The Arab of Palestine should be helped to set up their own state in the Holy City enclave.

The fatal mistake of the old League was that it lacked the guts to call Mussolini's bluff. It failed to brand aggression as aggression. That cowardice led finally to World War Two.

Smiles

"Yes, agriculture in his blood since he did so well with his alibi. He now molasses his friends with his delectable and is now a tramp."

A teacher put a problem to his class: "There were thirteen apples in a pen and seven jumped out; how many were left?"

One of the boys said, "None asked him for his delectable and is now a tramp."

"Mother at home, little one!" said the child of a most distinguished philosopher in Athens early this morning.

Asks For New Flag

Editor, Bulletin—On July 12th appeared a letter on "Jenny Flagpoles" by H. J. This writer regrets the absence of our good old Union Jack.

Now, the Union Jack is the flag of the United Kingdom and her colonies. It is not a Canadian flag, since Canada ceased to be a colony in 1982. In the absence of a flag of her own Canada continued the use of the Union Jack.

At a recent order-in-council the British flag was ordered to be flown over our parliament buildings, and was to replace the Union Jack over public buildings as soon as old Union Jacks were replaced. Over all our embassies the Union Jack was to be flown.

They want a distinctive Canadian flag. And the time is now overdue for a real Canadian flag. This writer appeals to the "Honourable" Mr. St. George and the "Sons of England."

One is compelled to ask if it is the function of these organizations to interfere in such matters. If so, they are interfering, and if this writer is an outsider he would not mind interfering.

Radio License

New Wave

Editor, Bulletin—A collector called on me recently and asked for payment of the radio license. I told him it was not worth it as the CBC would not pay it.

Apparently none of us can do anything about it. I have a pay, grin and bear it, while the CBC collects some four-hundred million dollars from radio licensees and supplies us monthly with a new wave of sound.

The salesman rang the doorbell. He rang it several times more, but the door remained closed. Some-thing was being turned to the right and asked, "Didn't you say your mother was home?"

"Yes, I'm sure she is," replied the youngster.

"I think she will, sir, when you reach our house," came the prompt reply. "We live four doors down the street."

Truman May Get Sympathy Vote

Philadelphia—During the last 30 days humiliation after humiliation was piled on the head of President Truman by the realist of the Democratic party.

One answer was that they felt they were certainly not going to be defeated by Governor Dewey in November. The worst instance and measure of the Democratic party's attitude toward the President was the display of a disloyal and baseless almost without parallel in the history of the United States.

President Truman has shown that he has courage and guts, and that he is not a weakling. He has received some meek of applause when displayed in the face of difficulties and danger. The meek and obedient good humor of the President has been a surprise to many who have suspected him to be.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., July 19.—(CP).—His scalp ripped from his head by the famend one-year-old Donald Watson of nearby Echo Bay village the son of a family injured in hospital here tonight.

Attracted by the screams and the dog's growling, the child's mother found the baby in a pool of blood yesterday. His scalp lay beside him.

One of the dog's teeth had penetrated the child's skull and the boy had been badly mauled. The parents could not explain the attack. They said the nine-year-old English collie had bitten another child several years ago but it had never maimed Donald.

Battle Over Landis Estate

HOLLYWOOD, July 19.—(UP).—A court battle appeared likely to end over a property settlement involving the estate of actress Carole Landis who died July 3 of an overdose of sleeping tablets.

Miss Landis' husband, Horace Schmidlapp, had signed a settlement awarding her $50,000. The actress, died the day before she was to have signed the agreement. Schmidlapp claims the settlement was invalidated by Miss Landis' failure to sign it.

Attorney Jerry Giesler is attempting to collect the funds on behalf of the estate. The actress' mother, Mrs. Clara Landis, was named principal beneficiary in the will.

He said the atomic energy outfit had licensed inclusion of the ore in the toy sets.

Roper Calls Electric Plebiscite a 'Stall'

COLINTON, July 19.—(CP).—Alberta CCF leader Elmer Roper called in an election campaign address Saturday night that a rural electrification plebiscite scheduled in conjunction with Alberta's Aug. 17 general election was a "stall."

"This is the latest in a long series of excuses by the Social Credit government for its failure to provide a comprehensive program of rural electrification."

Earlier in the day President N. J. Shupland of the Alberta Shoppers' Association was named CCF candidate for Athabasca. He in his first major speech since the election called for a plebiscite. Roper challenged the government's record in electric power development.

"Every other province has established publicly-owned power commissions to provide this important public service on a cost basis. Not so Alberta. We have had commissions, investigations, reports and so on for years—and now a plebiscite."

"Every important farmer's organization in the province has repeatedly declared its support for a publicly-owned system."

"The only way to ensure a vigorous and comprehensive program of rural electrification is to elect a government a party which has fought for and which believes in public ownership of the power system."

Canning Tools Ready;
Slow Fruit Delays

By Bea Threlly
The time has come, the walrus said, to speak of many things.
Things we're speaking of these days are canning and preserving problems.
The sealers are ready, the rings and tops are ready and lots of good quality rubber rings are on hand.
Now we're waiting on the fruit.

Wholesalers, with an optimistic eye on the tin can, are shipping shipments of early British Columbia peaches and pears will be around July 25.

This depends, of course, on the whims of the weatherman.
However, articles will be arriving in volume within the week and the tin canners will be able to get into the business with great gusto—or whatever enthusiasm they happen to have at hand.

Women, well-versed in the ways of food preserving, need settle down to serious canning without their book of labels nearby.
You, my good woman, may buy yourself just such a book of household hints and preserving labels for the sum of $5.

There are a million and one ways you should use labels in the house other than canning—and it's a good plan, in your deck drawer—for the moment you need them.

Proof of the vigilance of a good wife and mother is acting her husband and sons make their early trips to the barber.
Happily, like everything else, Life Magazine's recent publication has the story of a man who has invented an ingenious little comb that cuts the hair while the man is shaving.

WHY GROW OLD

Right Activity
Ends Depression

By Josephine Lowman
It is amazing what traps we sometimes find ourselves in, both physically and mentally. If a woman is fat she has probably stretched her stomach by overeating until she actually feels hollow when someone else might not, after consuming the same amount.

She has likely formed the habit of nibbling in between meals. This habit is as hard to break as nail biting or lifting the eyebrows. Therefore the lady in question may continue nibbling and eating more than she needs.

Fat women also seem to go in for some form of self torture by looking at, and sometimes buying, cute little models to wear. This emphasizes their figure faults and also their desire to look slim.

In the mental field we are likely to pick the people, books, movies, and music out of our surroundings which match the mood of the moment. Instead of going to see Miss Gaby Somers when we feel low, we may look up Miss Gaby Somers so we can mutter our troubles over verbally and listen to her.

If we are listening to the radio when we feel blue we may select the sentimental, melancholy tunes rather than comedy or happy and inspiring music which makes us feel better.

Naturally there are times when a woman is in a good mood. It is most helpful and soothing and when she is in a good mood she is in a good mood.

Happy homemakers spend at least 85 per cent of their days in the kitchen. They have a bright, cheery place to whip up that extra-special deviled ham and potatoes.

Bargain-wise decorators—American and otherwise—rank for the best checked curtains and blueprints that sell at 80c per yard or 10c per yard.

The material comes in 30, 42 and 54 inch widths and is most suitable for the kitchen, dining room, bedroom, play room, etc.

For less than a dollar take it home and treat your young'uns.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Basis of Partiality
Most Often Ages

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred
Parents deny, vehemently, that they are partial to one or another of their children. What they do not recognize is what determines partiality. It isn't just being nicer and sweeter to one child. It is more apt to be just that natural conduct which comes about because inevitably children are of different ages.

Mothers always take up the cause for the baby, protect his belongings, see that he isn't mistreated. A slightly older child may not be conscious that this is done because the baby has to have a champion, the child is apt to think that because the mother likes the baby best.

The baby, in turn, sees only the privileges which accrue to the older members of the family and feels that he is in a deprived of them. He can't eat the same food or drink the same soft drink. He has to stay behind his playpen fence while the other children cavort in the yard.

As the child grows, the inequalities he feels he suffers are ever increasing. He comes to believe that because he is younger he is eternally the under-dog of the family.

Children, both old and young, are poor estimators of the parent's affection. A child sees one member of the family being praised for waiting the plants and when he does the same he is told that he is resentful because he was scolded.

Children are ever conscious of the blame they receive, the scoldings, the warnings, the explanations. They do not balance these with the praise they get. In fact it may be just out of balance and the child knows it. He thinks the other fellow always has the best of it, he gets all the blame, the others all the praise.

Real partiality the just parent will never admit. But she has to work hard not to express it more than she can help. She has to be compatible than another. One child may resemble in looks or actions the mother's own family; another may be the replica of some distant relative on the father's side. It takes a big person, and a person who understands the roots of favoritism, to give each child his partial treatment. Yet each child is to be a wholesome personality must receive the same praise, the same love and attention as every other child in the family.

Our letter No. 78, "Help From Books" offers names of good books on all types of problems. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—
Boy For All Boys With Courage, Character

The following letter, which was written to a boy in his teens, is republished at the request of a group of mothers: Be good. Fear God and keep His commandments and walk upright in the sight of all men.

There is nothing that pays such dividends in health and happiness as living in worldly success as just goodness. Look about you and you will see that most of the men who are going strong in their seventies and eighties are good men who did not waste their strength on riotous living.

Under heaven there is no other sight more precious than that of a five young man who is swamped in a sea of debt, whose ambitions have been blighted and who is tired of the wife he has outgrown, all because he married too young. Follow these suggestions, son, in this trouble never will be knocked out of your door.

Get the best possible education you can. Think of getting an education as forcing it upon you to make your way to success, and realize that the better you make it, the quicker you will achieve your objective.

Acquire the fine art of being a mixer. Learn how to get along with people. All your life you will have to rub shoulders with your fellow creatures. Find out how to give them a pat on the back instead of dig in the ribs.

Friends are our greatest asset, both financially and socially. Be brave. Don't let anything in life down you. The people who win are not in life are breaking the Coconut Grove record held by Guy Lombardo, the former London, Ont. band leader.

Home-Care Cosmetics Score With Buyers

Women Spending More on Cosmetics: Cutting Visits to Beauty Parlors

Despite the high cost of living, women are spending thousands of dollars more this year on cosmetics than in 1939.

And the industry is busy developing ideas to make them spend more. Many companies are re-designing containers, improving store-counter displays, introducing new products and offering price concessions to consumers.

Consumer buying has re-adjusted. Women have turned from luxury goods to lower-priced creams and lotions.

They have spent more for home skin and hair care—and cut down their visits to the beauty parlor.

Home permanent wave sets have sold in increasing numbers. Local buyers here is a difference of $3 to $10 between a professional operator's permanent and the home job.

There has been an increased demand in stores for shampoo which indicates more and more women are washing and styling their locks at home.

Trade publications relate that products for hair care will be a major item.

Lever Brothers, soap manufacturers, during the year added cosmetics, a home permanent and shampoo to their product line.

In line with presentation of cosmetics as utility items rather than luxuries, many cosmetic proprietors are selling them in their stores.

Freda Hughes Wed Quietly

A quiet wedding took place at Presbyterian Church recently when Freda Clark Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hughes of Edmonton, became the bride of Jerome Mitchell Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hanson of Vancouver.

Rev. Mark Stanton performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white silk gown the fitted bodice embellished with a square neckline and long, lily-petal sleeves. Insets of lace caught at the waist extended the length of the train.

Her fastidious veil was gathered to her head by a tiara and carried a white prayer book with a corsage of pink roses and small blue flowers on trailing white tulle.

Mrs. Lino Basso, the bride's sister, was matron-of-honor. She and the bride wore matching hats with matching hair and gloves. Her bouquet was pink carnations.

Verne Hanson was best man for his brother and sisters were Mary and Helen Hanson of Saskatoon.

During the signing of the register, Miss Lily Davidson sang "No Wedding Bells for Me."

The bride's mother chose a white figured dress with navy and white accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations. Mrs. Hanson chose for her wedding a dress of brown and green, matching accessories and white carnations.

Verne Hanson proposed the ceremony.

Following a honeymoon at Jasper and Banff, the couple will live at Yarmaka.

New British Hats Feature Feathers

LONDON, July 10.—(CP)—Fashions and values will be the keywords of British hats this autumn, a tour of leading milliners' salons shows. Patterns, bright colors and new materials will challenge the grays of October.

Clashes, toques, turbans and beret—big and small—are popular choices. Bigger, rounder, closer to the head, with a quantity of feathers, they appear in felt, fur, felt, velvets and velvets of a quality not seen in British for years.

Trimmings are velvet drapings, wide velvet chin ties and occasional flowers—but feathers hold the key to the new look.

There are high mounds of ruffled hair, hair created by ruffles, long wings, tall, waving plumes of beaver and drooping trimples of ostrich and ostrich. Plainly Victorian were the stiffest brims on the wing or the nests of numerous tiny young ones, bird-lovers' nightmare.

Hats created entirely of feathers or those with huge mounds have tiny muffs of feathers to match.

Colors are ambers, soft gold, fawn browns and greens—chosen to tone with the pastel shades of new look clothes. New colors are kangaroo brown, eucalyptus green and ivory bluish—the last an appealing magenta rose, more akin to hair dye pressure than love.

The hats look their best with shorter hair styles and the Associated Milliners' Designers said: "We are creating hats for the shorter styles, but with lines suitable to other styles also, as most women are unwilling to part with their tresses."

"We are confident, however, that the shorter styles will be accepted soon. It is so essential to the 'new look'."

Reducing Easy In Hot Weather

After a woman reaches 40, doctors and insurance companies are inclined to urge her to take off any excessive load of weight which she carries.

If you found it difficult during the winter months to taper down to a weight level more to your doctor's liking, give the restricted life he has suggested a whirl now that hot weather makes such a regimen easier.

Hot weather will encourage your efforts to reduce. Moreover, you are apt to be kept up better by the lulling effects of heat. If your body is freed of a tirade burden of weight.

Even a loss of two or three pounds will be noticed in a more comfortable fit of clothes and a less stifling feeling when the thermometer rises.

Sweatier days usually curb the appetite for heavy, high-colored foods.

Apt to be doubled in their appeal are the green and red fruits and the other diet foods on which most women can lose weight gradually and comfortably.

Too Dark Tan Unflattering

The saddle-brown tan which many young things succeed in acquiring is not always the best choice of sun-color. The hazards of exposing skin to achieve this depth of color are a leathery look and excessive dryness.

More flattering to most complexions than a deep brown are the light golden shades which can be quickly acquired and easily maintained with a limited exposure.

The dark brown shade is less flattering to a girl—especially if her complexion verges on the yellow—because such a tan tends to intensify the yellow skin tones.

The pronounced exposure to the sun necessary to build a deep tan is apt to wreak havoc with the skin. Moreover, the fatiguing process at the end of the summer will be long and tedious.

The tanning of an over-exposed skin is also apt to be a problem.

The best way to control a tan and to guard skin freshness is to make a practice to apply a protective sun cream or oil before going out of doors.

ANG O Perfect Love.

At a reception for 100 guests following the ceremony Mrs. Crux received the guests wearing a brown flowered silk jersey dress with brown and white accessories and pink carnation corsage.

A three-tier wedding cake centered the bride's table.

Following a honeymoon at Sylvan Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Albrecht will reside in Edmonton.

BOLD HORIZONTAL STRIPES make this chambray sun dress gay and smart. This bar-bacon style does a lot more than help you bronze your shoulders for the style have discarded the tomboy look for a beguiling femininity. Secret of success in this frock is the use of heavy drapery chambray rather than the ordinary thin cotton material.

The year was 1835...

...a young Canada rugged out to school with a stick of firewood under his arm! For in that year an enterprising schoolmaster named John Holmes opened one of the nation's earliest schools! He called it "The Nursery of Science," with Mrs. Holmes in charge of the "Female Department." In addition to a fee of from 12s 6d to 20s per quarter, each pupil was required to supply his share of the fuel!

Holmes had made a start toward our present educational system—but it was many years before schools were free to all in Canada. Through those years it was public opinion expressed by vote that finally formed action.

When YOU cast your secret ballot at every election—municipal, provincial, federal—you exercise a duty and privilege planned and fought for by your forefathers. Your vote protects the future of your children. To fail in this duty is to be less than a good citizen.

NEEDED DOLLARS EARNED FOR U.K.

Shakespeare Industry Booming Along Avon

STRATFORD-ON-AVON, England, July 19.—(CP)—The Shakespeare industry is booming and earning a lot of dollars for Britain.

The cottage where he wooed Anne Hathaway, names from Melbourne and Montreal, Paris and Peru, are appearing in the visitors' books.

Stratfordians are particularly pleased about the dollars. They tell you with emphasis that their town is, after London, the country's most popular tourist haunt. Visited by hundreds of thousands of pilgrims from all over Britain and most parts of the world.

Post-War U.K. Buying Spree Seems at End

LONDON, July 19.—(CP)—Britain's great post-war buying spree seems to have come to an end. Supplies in several lines are accumulating as consumers grow more careful in their spending.

Already some manufacturers whose sales have been affected are claiming that a trend has begun toward deflation—a state where there are too many goods and not enough money to buy them.

and there are signs of a downward tendency in some lines. POLICY SUCCESS He told the House of Commons recently it was a sure sign of the success of the government's rationing policy when the demand for some types of goods, falls off, particularly when they were essential goods.

I'll say it's better than ever!

Romania Will Run Catholic Schools Soon

BUCHAREST, July 19.—(Reuters)—Roman Catholic schools in Romania will soon be taken over by the state, following denunciation Saturday by the government of the concordat with the Vatican concluded in 1929.

The decision to denounce the concordat, an agreement between the church and state defining the powers of the church and civil authorities in matters where both are concerned, was taken "to fulfill the constitutional provisions of complete freedom of religions."

The new Romanian constitution adopted after the abdication of King Michael, provides that all church schools shall be taken over by the civil authorities.

Two Earth Shocks

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—(AP)—Two light earth shocks were felt Saturday night at Pomona and Riverside, but no other communities in the area reported quakes.

The ministry said the plotters were in the "American Spy organization, CIO." (Possibly this referred to the United States Army Counter-Intelligence.)

Svoboda's present whereabouts has been a mystery. The minister has been absent from his desk since July 13. The official Czech News Agency, STK, announced Friday he is on a month's leave of absence.

Reports circulated abroad that Svoboda had fled to Germany. The minister had been absent from his desk since July 13. The official Czech News Agency, STK, announced Friday he is on a month's leave of absence.

RUNAWAY PLANE LANDS SAFELY

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 19.—(AP)—A bi-engineer plane took off Friday without anyone aboard and made a successful landing at a nearby farm.

Near Israel, 31, of Watkins, Kas., landed the plane in a field near Blair, Kas., when the motor became hot. In preparing to take off again, he turned the propeller with the throttle open and the exact reason into the air.

It landed in the state experimental orchard with only slight damage.

Ship Engineer Remanded in Shooting Case

SARNIA, Ont., July 19.—(CP)—Chief Engineer M. J. Murphy of the Canada Steamship Lines freighter Leithbridge was remanded today until tomorrow on a charge of shooting with intent to cause grievous bodily harm to Eddie Rogosinsky of Saskatoon, a member of the Canadian Seamen's Union.

Bill was set at $2,000. Rogosinsky and four other CSU members were sprayed with gun shot last Wednesday when they boarded the Leithbridge at Port Edward near here.

Rogosinsky was the most seriously wounded. His condition is still described as serious.

Edmonton Cadets Win At Calgary

CALGARY, July 19.—(CP)—Edmonton area cadets captured senior and junior northern Alberta naval cutter championships at the annual sea cadets regatta at Custer, Alberta, last Saturday.

A dispute over rules interpretations may force a re-match between Calgary, Red Deer and Drumheller for the southern title.

Red Deer cadets won the rifle competition while Calgary cadets topped the swimming events.

116,000 Ford Workers Given Strike Approval

DETROIT, July 19.—(AP)—The last barrier to a Ford Motor Company strike was cleared today when the United Automobile Workers (CIO) executive board approved a

The board left it to the union's Ford negotiating committee to call 116,000 production workers in 46 plants across the United States whenever it chooses.

Ken Bannan, director of the UAW's Ford department, announced yesterday that UAW Ford locals had voted "overwhelmingly" for the walkout to support their contract demands. He said the vote was about 98 per cent in favor of a strike.

Contract negotiations have been underway since June 15. The UAW rejected Ford's latest offer of a straight 15-cent hourly pay increase, which would bring the average hourly pay rate of Ford production workers to $1.85.

The union's current demand is for a 25-cent package which would include a 1-cent hourly bonus, security grants and other classes.

Abortion Ring In Vancouver

VANCOUVER, July 19.—(CP)—The Vancouver News-Herald said today in a front-page story that evidence pointed toward an abortion ring operating here.

The story said a young woman taken to hospital Sunday in critical condition was the third known victim of abortions within the last annual sea cadets regatta at Custer, Alberta, last Saturday.

Police said an autopsy showed evidence of an abortion on a 28-year-old housewife who died July 15. A coroner's jury Thursday blamed the death of a 24-year-old housewife on "an unknown abortionist."

The United States, France and Belgium already have been asked formally to provide 300 military officers to aid in supervising the force. Bernadotte said in Rome last night he would concentrate on setting up the observation machinery before beginning any mediation efforts.
